

Docip services during the 12th Session of the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (EMRIP)

Docip provides the following tools and services for indigenous delegates to facilitate their work during the 12th Session of the Expert Mechanism on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples:

Technical Secretariat

The Technical Secretariat is a space available to indigenous delegates for meeting and working during the Expert Mechanism. We are located in building E, Conference Room E-2060, below Room XX. This space will be open from 9:00am to 7:00pm from Monday, 15 July, to Friday, 19 July, and will offer the following services:

- Access to computers, printers and photocopiers
- Translations provided free of charge: English – Spanish – French – Russian

Docip translates a wide variety of types of documents, such as: Communications (with the Special Rapporteur, Members of the Expert Mechanism, UN agencies, etc.), presentations and/or flyers for side events, statements and interventions, etc.

For a document of 2-3 pages, we can guarantee a turnaround of no longer than 24 hours. For a longer document, the turnaround/deadline will depend on the availability of our volunteer translators.

Please send your translation requests to: translations@docip.org

- Interpretation services: English – Spanish – French – Russian, for:
  - Your informal or bilateral meetings (with the Special Rapporteur, Member States, Indigenous organizations, etc.): Service provided free of charge
  - Your Caucus meetings: Service provided free of charge
  - Your side events: Please consult the fee schedule below

Free of charge	Indigenous organizations with limited financial resources
70 CHF/hour interpreter per	Indigenous organizations with sufficient financial resources
90 CHF/hour interpreter per	NGO in coalition with Indigenous Peoples
150 CHF/hour interpreter per	International organizations, UN agencies or Member States

Please send your interpretation requests as soon as possible to Ms. Johanna Massa (Technical Secretariat Coordinator) at johanna.massa@docip.org.

Documentation Center

- Docip collects all types of documents concerning indigenous issues and makes them available on its database.
- It safeguards the memory of the process of recognizing the rights of indigenous peoples at the international level.
- It transmits this memory, notably to younger generations, using various methods, including preparing DVDs, posting on its website, distributing photocopies, responding to specific requests, etc.
- It responds to information requests and undertakes research for indigenous peoples' representatives, academics, diplomatic missions, and other interested parties.

The Documentation Center collection contains the following resources:

- Digital documents
  - Statements made by indigenous representatives, international organizations and governments.
  - Documents from UN treaty bodies and agencies such as WIPO that are related to indigenous peoples.
  - Documents linked to follow-up of the World Conference on Indigenous Peoples.
- Journals
- Monographs and Thematic Files

During EMRIP, Docip:

- Collects statements made by indigenous peoples during EMRIP sessions.
- Posts your statements online to make them available to all, including those who are unable to attend the conference. Link: <http://bit.ly/STATEMENTS-EMRIP>

For more information, please contact our documentation manager, Ms. Priscilla Saillen, at the following address: priscilla.saillen@docip.org.

Please deliver a copy of your intervention/statement to our documentation service! Our volunteers will ask you for it in the conference room, but you can also bring it directly to our office or send it by email to: documentation@docip.org. Thank you!

Docip provides indigenous communities worldwide with clear and accessible insight into the international discussions that concern them. It also gives readers the tools needed for following and engaging in the discussions conducted in the international arena that are related to the issues confronting indigenous peoples and to their rights.

Docip Publications

The publications:

- summarize the interventions presented in the relevant international mechanisms that might be of interest to indigenous communities, while respecting our principles of neutrality and impartiality;
- are published in four languages: English, Spanish, French and Russian; and
- are distributed by regular mail, on our social media (Facebook and Twitter pages) and by email (the latter method exclusively for the Update), in order to reach indigenous communities in remote areas and raise awareness about these issues.

Each year, Docip publishes two Summary Notes (summaries of UNPFII and EMRIP sessions) and one issue of the Update (news bulletin on what is happening at the international level regarding indigenous peoples' rights).

For more information, please contact us at: publications@docip.org.

Docip Training Sessions

Docip offers a training service to indigenous delegates that consists of two parts: (1) a capacity-building program, and (2) a follow-up of the training already conducted by Docip in previous years:

- Capacity-building program

This program takes place once a year in Geneva and provides a group of delegates from a common indigenous region access to one or more international mechanisms in accordance with the international agenda. The program aims to provide training on international mechanisms, as well as on documentation of human rights violations.

- Follow-up of the training previously conducted

In order to ensure the quality of its service, Docip monitors the training it has already provided to indigenous organizations and is always available to respond to specific requests related to topics covered during past training.

Do not hesitate to contact us during this 12th Session of the Expert Mechanism to express needs or offer feedback on the training you have already participated in with Docip.

Additionally, please note that, as of 2019, Docip is no longer providing training to newcomers at international conferences (UNPFII and EMRIP). This shift is intended to avoid interference with the United Nations Voluntary Fund, which plans to carry out this type of training with indigenous delegates at future conferences.

For more information on Docip Trainings, please do not hesitate to contact Ms. Claire Moretto at claire.moretto@docip.org.

Docip Information Service

Docip provides and transmits useful information on international issues of interest for indigenous peoples' organizations and their supporters. We publish information in four languages (English, Spanish, French, and Russian).

Before the EMRIP session, we inform you on the following subjects:

- Docip services
- Indigenous Peoples Caucus preparatory meeting and follow-up meetings
- important official documents for the session
- side events

During the session, each day you will find on our website an agenda, available in four languages, listing official meetings and side events for the day (<http://bit.ly/docip-emrip-daily-en>).

Our Facebook and Twitter pages will keep you updated on last-minute changes, deadlines, and important events.

For further information, or to submit information that you would like to have disseminated, please contact Mr. Pascal Angst (pascal.angst@docip.org).

You can read these news and information updates on our website (<http://bit.ly/docip-news>) or by subscribing to our mailing list: bit.ly/docip-subscription.

To take part in our social network, follow us on Facebook (@docip.org) and Twitter (@docip_en).

Docip Legal Support Services on UN Mechanisms

Docip provides support in the following areas:

- Legal research
- Networking with other delegates and organizations
- Legal advice on the Treaty Bodies and the UPR, funds, etc.
- Public speaking techniques for presenting statements during EMRIP

You can contact the legal support service if you have questions concerning your communications to the Special Rapporteur on the rights of indigenous peoples.

You can also contact the legal support service for advice on follow-up procedures or on editing of your communications and reports.

For more information, please contact Mr. Andrés Del Castillo, Docip's Senior Legal Advisor (andres.delcastillo@docip.org), or come to the Technical Secretariat office in person between the hours of 9:00am and 6:00pm to arrange a meeting.

These services are available free of charge in English, Portuguese, French or Spanish; Russian interpretation can also be arranged, if needed.

Docip Services at the EU

PURPOSE: Docip strives above all to facilitate the exchange of information between European institutions and those indigenous peoples who wish to inform the European Union (EU) about challenges faced by their communities at the local level.

Docip's satellite office in Brussels is at the disposal of indigenous peoples to:

- facilitate contacts with the EU;
- inform and assist them on EU processes (legislative processes, civil society consultations, calls for proposals, etc.);
- inform them on key elements of the European agenda; and
- assist indigenous delegates who wish to:
  - raise the awareness of EU decision-making members and involve them in indigenous issues in order to make these issues an EU priority in the long term; and
  - encourage the EU to eliminate or alleviate the abuses suffered by their communities.

If you have questions or wish to get in touch with a member of our Brussels team, please contact them at: eu@docip.org.

Contact Information for the Director

Docip Director Rémi Orsier will be on site and available to meet with you during the Indigenous Caucus preparatory meeting, as well as during the EMRIP session. If you would like to meet with him, please do not hesitate to write him at the following address: remi.orsier@docip.org.
