GLOBAL INDIGENOUS YOUTH CAUCUS

You are invited to join a side event to discuss key aspects of indigenous youth development and how to enhance indigenous youth development efforts and policies in the framework of the 2030 Agenda and existing frameworks. Organised by the United Nations Division for Social Policy and Development (DSPD), and the Permanent Missions of Australia and Ecuador to the United Nations on the occasion of the UNPFII16, the side event aims at assessing the current situation of indigenous youth, take stock of progress made and remaining challenges, and analyze the best way forward while leaving no indigenous youth behind.

This side event will feature indigenous youth voices to promote indigenous youth participation as integral stakeholders of decision making processes at local, national and global levels.

Interpretation in Spanish will be provided to a limited number of participants thanks to the generous support of DOCIP (Indigenous Peoples' Centre for Documentation, Research and Information).
